

CDM aims to achieve sustainable development and cost effective reduction of Green House Gases (GHG) emissions. GEO develops GHG management strategy which involves GHG emission monitoring and control for sustainability assessment and helps clients improve performance while reducing risk through practical, strategic, and creative solutions. Our strengths lie in matching technical expertise that balances business opportunities with social, economic, and environmental responsibilities thereby providing clients with lasting solutions for environmental and public health protection, while supporting community and economic development.